Eight Wastes that are Destroying Your Profits

Learn how to Banish Waste in Your Organization!

South Bend, IN - Nov 3 - 4, 2010

Event Description:

Understanding the 8 Wastes is the foundation of lean thinking. Without a detailed comprehension of what they are, you won't see them. Without a plan to eliminate them, they will continue to rob you of profits.

In most organizations, much of the daily effort is spent on wasteful activities. How much of your time do you spend fighting fires, expediting parts, or other activities which do not help reduce the waste in your operation, but merely allow you to make it through another day?

To eliminate waste, management, engineering, and supervisors must first understand the concepts and methods needed to develop and drive the organization toward a vision which they continuously champion. If you're interested, this event will help you start your journey!

"We saved $17,000,000 by eliminating a cross docking warehousing. Jim was a valuable coach to the team, mentoring them through the project." - Jim Miller, Nexteer PC&L Director

This Event Will Help You:

- Understand the benefits of becoming "Lean"
- Learn about the 8 Wastes and develop strategies to banish waste from your organization
- Learn how to use 5S as a lever to start your lean journey
- Understand the sequence of implementing lean and develop a roadmap for your lean effort
- Develop an appreciation for standardized work and develop a roadmap for standardized work implementation
- Avoid Common Mistakes in Lean Implementation Efforts

Who Should Attend?

Operations Executives, Managers and Supervisors, Engineering Executives, Manufacturing and Product Engineers and Project Leaders

Cost :
$595 / Person

This seminar was possibly the best I've ever attended. The presentation was informative and captivating. Please let me know when you plan to have other seminars.

About Event Leader - Jim Manley

Jim Manley is a consulting associate with Mastermind Consulting Network, a team of professionals dedicated to helping organizations understand and apply lean thinking to their business processes.

Jim received his Bachelor of Science from Eastern Michigan University in Industrial Technology and Statistical Process Control, and his graduate work at Michigan State University. He has been an adjunct faculty member at both universities, teaching undergraduate and graduate students about lean principles (manufacturing, supply chains, logistics, and quality control).

Starting his career with General Motors as an hourly team member, Jim was promoted and eventually retired as the Delphi Corporate Manager for Global Lean Supply Chains.

Jim had the opportunity to study with Dr. Deming and complete a management training program with Toyota at NUMMI. He has implemented lean systems for GM, Delphi, and others in 29 different countries, and has been coached by retired Toyota executives.
